

Container Partitions

Container partitions offer versatile solutions by providing multiple compartments within a single container.

One perfect use for container partitions includes a multi-store storage facility. In the self-storage industry a 20ft container with partitions at 5ft intervals can create three separate storage units. They are also excellent for dividing a work and storage space in office environments or for customers requiring bespoke conversions with distinct areas of use.

Supplied with various partition types available and fitted prior to delivery, these partitions offer secure, flexible, and heavy-duty solutions for diverse industries.
